Messrs. Davis and Thomas will conduct the meeting, and have hung up purses and cups for the various interesting events set down for the after-noon. Announcement was no sooner made that there would be an "event" at Brightwood on July 4 than some of the best known of the local owners and trainers forwarded their entries to the management, though the ertries will not close until midnight of Thursday, July 2. In Class A are carded an uncommon ly interesting lot of trotters and pacers, whose "marks" entitle them to respect ful consideration at the hands of the horse loving public. In Class B are a number of "comers." Several are said to have shown surprising speed in their try-outs at the Brightwood track.

"Green" Ones in Class C.

The "railbirds" at Brightwood ar ooking for some surprises in the bunch of horses entered in Class C. Practica y all of them are green at track driv ng, having been given the most of their speeding on the macadam roadways about Washington, drawing buggies or traps. The said "railbirds" aver that several of the horses entered in class (are not by any means "green," and that with proper handling they will show speed that will not only surprise their owners, but still more so those who effect wisdom as to the breed and mettle of every horse that ever hitched to racing sulky.

After the race program proper is completed there will be a half-mile dash for men and boys; free for all. Silver cups will be presented to those gaining first and second place in the contest, Thomas P. Baldwin will act as starter for the races on the 4th, and the judges will be as follows: Dr. C. F. There usual haunts of the Capital Yacht Club. Several members expect to take their riends and familles, weigh anchor, and leave for any part to which they may be piloted by whim or fancy.

The Capital Yacht Club owns more sea-going boats than any other such organization in Washington, and its members may justly be proud of the club and its fleet of yachts, power boats, and steam yachts.

This year the members expect to pay off all the bonds on the club house, lo cated at the corner of Ninth and streets southwest. This will leave the property unencumbered, and the members will add from time to time such right center that looked good for three improvements as they may deem neces According to Comodore Hewins, there are also several applications, and before the end of the year the membership hould be at least a third larger. Commodore Hewins' yacht, Nene noosha, winner of the annual regatta and present holder of the Galt Cup, will sail some time in July for the Capes. Other boats likely to be found on the lower river this summer are the Ciconia, a sixty-five-footer, and the Gaivota, a 100-foot steam yacht recently added to the fleet. The Sea Belle expects to start for New York shortly.
